$16,000 DAMAGE IN NURSERY FIRE

An estimated $16,000 damage was caused last Thursday night by a fire which destroyed a 10-room men's club house at the Niles branch of the California Nursery Company.

The conflagration was believed caused by a faulty gas water heater. The fire was extinguished after two trucks of the Niles Fire Department fought the flames for nearly two hours.

The blaze was discovered by Myron A. Rice, 56, who told Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Heenes he walked out of a rear bedroom about 10:30 o'clock to find flames leaping from the water heater in the hall. He aroused the only other occupant, Ceylon C. Corcoran, 59, and then called the fire department.

Efforts to combat the fire were hampered by lack of water pressure, as the nursery's main line was under repairs.

1.55 INCH RAIN FALLS IN WEEK

Many fields throughout the township were covered with water this week, and heretofore dry creeks were flowing, as a result of rainfall recorded here every day except Monday and Tuesday.

The week's rainfall brought the season's total to 8.81 inches, still short of last year's March 4 total of 11.31 inches.

Wednesday, February 23, .05 inch rain was recorded, while .35 was noted Thursday. The Friday, Saturday and Sunday total was .31 inch.

After the two-day lay-off, .45 inch fell Tuesday, and .43 inch Wednesday.

Total for the nine-day period was 1.55 inches.

NEW SCHOOL UNIT COMPLETED, IN USE THIS WEEK

Kindergarten, first and second grade students at Centerville Elementary School received instruction in a newly completed group of four classrooms this week, for the first time.

The new classrooms, erected by the Indenco Construction Co. of Oakland at a bid price of $71,000, are located immediately in back of the "old" school. Four rooms are included in the two buildings.

Completion of the project permits taking classes out of the school library and auditorium. Classes under Miss Mary S. Dias, Miss May Davis, Mrs. Edna Stubblefield and Mrs. Eugenie Freeman will be housed in the units.

Contract for the construction was awarded by school trustees Judge Allen G. Norris, Ernest J. Sabina and the late Manuel Oliveira, last August. State funds allocated for the work totaled $48,000, while the district has spent $58,000.

Radiant heating, and saw-tooth roofing, permitting even lighting throughout the rooms, are but some of the features included in the new units. Included in the project was purchase of several acres of land for possible further school expansions.

Other buildings on campus are a cafeteria building, erected in 1928, and a 12-classroom building with administrative offices built in 1940.

MARIN OFFICIALS VIEW WATER PLANT

The party, consisting of James Peters, general manager of the district; William Herup, director; Mr. Seiger, chief engineer; and L. Sefani, assistant manager, arrived here to visit Mr. Whitaker, a former director of the district.

The group also attended a Niles Rotary Club meeting as guests of Ed Enos of Niles.

Pertinent features of the percolation plant were explained by W. D. Patterson, president of the board of directors, and Manuel Bernardo, director.

DENTAL CLINIC IS STAGED AT SCHOOL

A dental clinic for all kindergarten, first, second and third grade students at Centerville Elementary School was held Tuesday morning in the school auditorium.

Examinations were given students by Centerville Dentists, Dr. F. J. DeBorja, E. M. Grimmer Jr. and Stanley McMillan, assisted by Mrs. March Fong, dental hygienist for county schools. P.T.A. mothers also aided by assisting with clerical work.

Followups are forthcoming to see that needed dental corrections are made.

ARTISTS NAMED FOR SEASON'S CONCERT SERIES

The news that all Community Concert members have been awaiting with eagerness, has now been released.

The recent Community Concert membership campaign, which closed last Friday, has acquired enough memberships to permit the appearance of three artists in next season's series.

Early in November the well-known tenor, Elwood Gary, will appear; in December the popular piano duo, Morley and Gearhart, will perform (they have done much of Fred Waring's arranging); and in the spring the members will have the opportunity of hearing the glamorous Chloe Owen, soprano.

Those in the township who hold membership cards, will be interested in hearing that they may hear Jesus Maria San Roma, pianist, in Walnut Creek tonight, March 4. And on Monday night, March 7, they may hear David Lloyd, tenor, at San Leandro.

The next local concert, to be given as usual at the Washington High auditorium in Centerville, will be Jane Hobson, appearing on the night of March 16.

PASHOTE HONORED AT CRAB DINNER

A crab dinner party was staged Monday night by the Newark Firemen's Club, to honor Alfred Pashote, retiring commissioner of the Newark Fire Protection District.

The party was highlighted by presentation of a pen and pencil set to Pashote, in appreciation of his 19 years of service to the district both as a volunteer fireman and as a commissioner. He resigned from the board last month due to press of business.

The set was given jointly by the firemen's club and Pashote's fellow commissioners.

Pashote's resignation became effective Tuesday. He is going into business in Mountain View.

Following the dinner, a regular semi-monthly firemen's meeting was held.

Arrangements for the affair were under direction of Lee Wilson, club president, and Joseph E. Pashote, chairman of the entertainment committee. The dinner got under way at 7 o'clock.

AMATEUR HOUR IS HELD AT ALVARADO

Pearl Labrado, Beverly Spurlock and Antwine Rigmaiden were judged winners in Amateur Hour competition last Friday at the Alvarado school.

Miss Labrado, who took first prize honors with her vocal rendition of "Tree in the Meadow," received $1. Miss Spurlock's tap dance routine brought her second place prize of 75 cents. Rigmaiden came in third via a boogie woogie piano solo.

The program, first amateur hour to be staged at the school this year, was held in the school auditorium last Friday morning with school teachers as judges.

A total of 17 students competed.

DECOTO PUPILS IN BANKING BUSINESS

Decoto School eighth grade students under direction of Miss Rosemarie Dowd went into the banking business last Friday, as part of a new school work unit.

Students were given real bank books and deposit slips, and accounts were begun immediately. Money saved will be used during the annual eighth grade field trip to San Francisco the last week of school.

ALVISO STUDENTS TO VIEW OPERA

"The Barber of Seville," and a visit to San Francisco's Radio City, will be on the agenda for seventh and eighth grade students at Alviso school March 11, when a field trip to that city is held.

James Nunes is school principal.

MARCH OF DIMES NETS $2,000 HERE

Approximately $2,000 has been turned over to the Society for the Prevention and Cure of Infantile Paralysis as Washington Township's contribution to the 1949 March of Dimes.

This was announced today by E. Dixon Bristow and J. V. Goold, March of Dimes co-chairmen for the township this year.

The Dimes drive, conducted by house-to-house canvasses, through area schools, and by "wishing well" coin receptacles, ended in February.

RED CROSS DRIVE GETS UNDER WAY IN TOWNSHIP TODAY

The 1949 Red Cross drive for funds gets under way in Washington Township this morning, with house-to-house canvasses, and will continue through the month of March.

Drive workers received last minute instructions last night at a kickoff meeting held at the Niles P. G. & E. office.

Community chairmen were appointed last week, and volunteer help has been secured from business houses and industrial plants.

Goal of the drive is $5,000.

Drive chairman will be Peter D. Juhl of Niles.

Community chairmen include Phil Willis, Centerville; Kenneth Garcia, Decoto; Ralph Chapman, Newark; Mrs. Joe S. Dias, Alviso; Tony Vargas, Warm Springs; Harold J. Speetzen, Irvington; Mrs. E. Dixon Bristow, Niles; and Mrs. M. F. Lofton, Mission San Jose. John Brahm of Niles will be in charge of soliciting industries.

LeRoy Broun of Centerville is chairman of the Washington Township Red Cross Branch, and Judge E. A. Quaresma of Niles is a member of the Oakland Area Red Cross Council.

Hopes of "going over the top" were expressed today by Juhl, who pointed to the great value of the Red Cross as a disaster insurance to the township. "If disaster, such as fire, flood, or earthquake, were to strike here," he said, "the Red Cross would be on the job immediately, with invaluable assistance. We should view Red Cross contributions as a type of insurance premium—insuring assistance when most badly needed."

ENLARGEMENT OF PATROL FAVORED

Advancement of the Hayward office of the California Highway Patrol to a Class I office was favored by the Niles Chamber of Commerce at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday. The proposal, now being considered in Sacramento at the request of the Hayward Area Chamber of Commerce, follows heavy increase of services required out of the Hayward office.

Also considered at Tuesday's meeting was the much-discussed Proposition 4, which the Niles Chamber favored repealing because of dangers to the state's financial structure.

LOCALITE APPEARS ON RADIO PROGRAM

Those in the township who were fortunate enough to be tuned in Wednesday morning to the radio broadcast of "Ladies Be Seated" were likely astonished to hear a familiar voice coming in over the air.

Mrs. Dan Marble of Niles, who is in Los Angeles with her husband, was chosen from the audience to appear over the air because she was the "best-dressed woman."

She was interviewed by the interlocutor, and expressed her views on long skirts, hobble skirts, and several other moot questions involved in the current fashions for women.

Mrs. Marble was selected from the audience, according to the judges, mainly because of her "becoming hat and beautiful hair and coiffure."

DISASTER INSURANCE SALE BEGINS HERE

RED CROSS—WHAT IT MEANS TO ALL OF US

The greatest sale of disaster insurance ever to take place in Washington Township gets under way today. The Red Cross drive for funds—with a local quota of $5,000—is off and will continue through the month of March.

Just what the Red Cross means to the Township is something we can little realize or appreciate—until disaster has struck the area. We rarely come in contact with its functions when things are going smoothly, yet its presence will surely be felt when and if a flood, fire, earthquake, or any natural disaster hits here.

Yet even last year the Red Cross was hard at work, helping those who needed assistance—quietly, effectively, efficiently. In direct aid alone—money and supplies given township families in desperate straits—$501.59 was expended, but this is but a shadow of the entire picture.

An average of slightly more than 20 cases per month were handled by the township branch. Of these 11 concerned veterans in active service and their families; eight cases involved disabled veterans; and two concerned civilians.

Five permanent committees, the motor corps, gray ladies, disaster relief, nurses aid training, and Junior Red Cross, operate constantly here, performing relief and aid duties.

The major function of the organization, however, is in the relief given areas badly hit by natural disasters. Machinery is set up now to dispatch aid here instantly in the event of a major calamity. And the thorough work accomplished in stricken areas throughout the nation forms one of the greatest humanitarian aid stories ever written.

The Red Cross can function no more without funds than any other organization. It is up to us to do our share—to provide our full quota of funds, to insure ourselves of aid in event of disaster here, today, tomorrow, or at any future time.

GICONDO LANFRI RITES TOMORROW

Last rites will be held tomorrow for Gicondo Lanfri, 81, who passed away in Niles Wednesday.

Services will be held from the Berge Mortuary Company at 9 a.m., followed by mass at Corpus Christi Church at 9:30. Interment will be at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Recitation of the Holy Rosary will be tonight at 8:30 at the mortuary.

A native of Italy, he was the husband of Domenica Lanfri, father of William Paul Lanfri of Livermore and Alfred Lanfri of Niles, and uncle of Mrs. Antone Silva, Mrs. Mario Moise, Mrs. Italo Salvadori and Guido Lanfri of Niles.

In addition he is survived by five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He was a member of Centerville Druid Lodge and the Foresters Lodge of San Francisco.

'FACE LIFTING' BEGUN ON CHURCH IN CENTERVILLE

Work is now under way on a rejuvenation of the Centerville Presbyterian Church and grounds, according to Howard Steward, minister.

The project includes an addition to the Sunday School and kitchen, painting the church, and establishing a parking lot between the church and the street.

The new parking lot will make it possible to park a large number of cars near the church. Mr. Joe Shepherd, through much hard work, aided by Lee Williams and many others, has made the parking lot a reality for the church by the donation of time, materials, equipment and money.

The new Sunday School addition includes additional class rooms, an enlarged and modernized kitchen, and adequate rest rooms.

The church steeple also will be repaired.

According to Clarence Payton, contractor, the addition will be completed within a few weeks.

Important work has also been done by Mrs. Ed Chadbourne and Miss Margaret Fair.

The church now provides a nursery to care for small children during the 11:15 morning worship service.

LEGION BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY SET

The 30th anniversary of the founding of the American Legion will be celebrated in Washington Township next Tuesday evening, at a dinner to be held in the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles.

The party will be staged by the Township Legion Auxiliary post for the Legion, starting at 6:30.

Chairman for the affair will be Mrs. Stella Benbow, who will be assisted by Marie Duarte, Angie Furtado, Margaret Jones, Mrs. Carl Mohn, Geneva Smith, Florence Graber, and others.

Ham will be chief item on the dinner menu, and dessert will be a huge birthday cake.

An entertainment program will follow.

Washington Huskie and Puppie hoop quintets played two improved ball games last Friday night, before falling to superior squads from San Jose Technical High School in both ends of a double-header played on San Jose courts.

The Huskies dropped their tilt by a 34-47 count, while the 130's forced San Jose into an overtime period only to lose 34 to 40. Joe Sankene sparked the varsity, putting on a one-man 19-point scoring exhibition. Largely through his efforts Washington stayed within close range of the Bulldogs until the third period, when San Jose spurred ahead to take a 13-point advantage. Bill Ramsey was second high scorer for the Huskies, netting seven points.

Halftime score stood Washington 17, San Jose 23.

The Puppies showed surprising strength in their game, both on offensive and defensive. Washington took a 10-9 first quarter lead, and held a 16-all tie at the end of the first half.

Tech held a two-point 24-22 advantage as the third stanza came to a close, but the Pups came back to tie the score at 33 all as the final gun sounded.

Then the roof fell in.

In the overtime period Dave Escamilla, Tech forward, broke away to tally six points, and ice the game for San Jose, 40-34. The Puppies were weakened by the loss of Bob Hernandez and Ralph Juhl, both of whom fouled out late in the final quarter.

Juhl and Hernandez both had played stellar defensive games for the pups.

High point men for Washington were Armando Morlos and Juhl,

BASEBALL TILTS SET SUNDAY—MAYBE

If and when ole-man weather gives up, Southern Alameda County Baseball Leaguers will "have at it again."

Meanwhile the same sign goes up Sunday afternoons—rain, no game.

Last week-end the per usual occurred, and games between the Irvington Merchants and Marlo Packers and Niles Merchants and Hayward Carpenters were called off—but the tilts will be played this Sunday if Jupiter Pluvius cooperates.

The Irvington-Marlo game is due to get started at 2 p.m. on the Irvington lot, while Niles hosts the Carpenters at Centerville, also starting at 2.

Two contests are played each noon at school, directed entirely by students.

IRVINGTON HOOPSTERS WHIP NILES TWICE

Irvington Elementary School A and B basketball squads scored a double victory over Niles school hoopsters Monday, in games played at Niles.

DEATH STRIKES A FAWN IN NILES CANYON

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP BRINGS TRAGEDY

To Jim Fitzhugh, of the Frick Sport Shop in Niles, we are indebted for this fine piece of sentiment which he wrote after a fawn was found dead in Niles Canyon last week. We feel certain that sportsmen and other lovers of the outdoors and wildlife will find it an exceptionally well expressed statement of their own feelings.—The Editor.

By JIM FITZHUGH

My name was not Bambi, but I could have been called that, for I was also a little fawn just a few months old. I was one of those creatures living in the range of mountains behind your home down in the valley.

Many is the night that I looked down on you with your lights burning and your warm fires blazing. But I was not envious of you and your fire because I had my mother to keep me warm from the cold and rain.

I was very happy in the hills playing and romping with the other fawns. How I loved to go into the canyons with our herd and eat the sweet cold grass that grew there! In the spring we would come close to your home to munch on the buds of your fruit trees. I don't think you liked for us to do that, because we were chased away by blazing hot pellets from a thing that went bang when we got too close.

After that, my father gave me many lessons about the life I had to lead if I was to grow up with the herd and get antlers like he had. "Survival of the fittest," my father used to say.

He taught me about the lurking dangers in the hills. The mountain lions were always at hand to kill us if we were not always on the alert to run.

My father also told me how you, man, would come into our feeding ground for 30 days and try to shoot us with the things that went bang. He taught me to run before man came close to me. He said that if I didn't have a chance to run and hide, then not to move, as man was really very stupid and would only shoot if something moved. He even said that men would shoot each other in the woods during this time.

It was at about this time that I had a bad lapse of memory and I didn't listen very well when my father told me of the men that come into the woods after all the others had gone.

He said they come in with the lights we used to watch burning in your homes in the valley. He said that they made it so you couldn't see—and then a red flash behind the lights, and there would be no more romping and playing with the other deer.

My story is about through now. It was only last week, just another day in your life. But it was the last day of my life.

Our herd had to move down out of the hills to get something to eat. We were very close to your home. Maybe you saw us feeding on the hill overlooking your town. I guess I strayed away from my mother, and when it started getting dark. I couldn't find her any place. I looked and looked—and I guess she was looking for me too.

After a while I found myself in the canyon where lots of men lived. I was scared. I came to a wide hard place that my father had called a road and had warned me to stay away from. I didn't know what to do.

Around the side of the hill came a big monster with two eyes glaring at me. They were lights—but not the friendly lights that shone from your homes in the valley. Then a big light on the side of the monster stabbed at me and blinded me!

A red flash from behind the light! I felt a burning tearing in my side. I rolled down the hill into some water. I was burning with terrible pain when another light flashed on me.

All night long I lay in the water, slowly bleeding. I struggled to get up and find my mother.

What had I ever done to deserve this? All I ever did was to eat a few buds off a fruit tree once. But those fruit trees didn't belong to those men that had shot me.

Morning came, and another man was standing over me. He had a badge on his chest, that said Game Warden. He looked at me with pity in his eyes and muttered under his breath.

He reached into his pocket, pulled out a long shiny thing and plunged it into my throat.

My pain and misery was no more.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

IT WAS TOPS

It's true. 1708 people witnessed the performances of the high school "Vodvil" last week-end!

Those who missed it are still regretting it. It was an outstanding show. Frankly, I enjoyed it more than many stage shows I've seen in San Francisco.

Two acts, especially, stood out as being of professional status, the eerie "Danse Macabre" and the girls' orchestra doing a take-off on "the Hour of Charm." I'd like to see both of these acts over again. In fact, I'd like to see the whole thing over again! Also, I'd like to hear Bob Lizardo sing in ten years from now after he's taken professional training. He certainly has a voice that could lead to a singing career.

If I seem to be too rhapsodic about the Vodvil let me remind you that it deserves every bit of praise anybody gives it. For stage effects, color, talent, and direction you'll go a long way before you find its equal. And let me mention the nice job of emceeing done by Bob de la Torre. It takes considerable stamina and poise to go through a whole show, but he carried it off beautifully.

I wish there were space to mention all of the other talented teenagers, but there isn't. But this I can say: you alumni of the high school, and you parents, have a great deal to be proud of in your school and in your youngsters.

WHERE IS IT?

I'll give a year's free subscription to The Register to the first person who can tell me where the town of Hillard is, in this Washington—township. In studying the Atlas at the Niles Library the other day, I was amazed to find that there is such a place on the map—located between Centerville and Newark.

Where is it? Why don't we ever hear about it? Does anybody live there, or is it a ghost town?

READ IT

It's not often that I'm stirred to such an extent over anything I read that tears come to my eyes. I read something this week, however, that gave me the shivers and it wasn't because of this nasty cold I have either!

You can read it, too. It's in this week's Register. It's a little piece written about a fawn that was ruthlessly left to die in Niles Canyon.

Jim Fitzhugh of Niles is the author.

NILES KINDERGARTNERS LEARN ABOUT DAIRIES

The children of the two Niles school kindergarten classes are now quite sure that they know everything there is to know about dairies and cows, having toured the Zwissig Dairy this week under the guidance of their teachers, Mrs. Jed Oxborrow and Mrs. Bowers.

THE YOUNGER SET

DIANNE CAMINADA

Little Dianne Rae Caminada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rinaldo Caminada of Decoto, is as captivating a little lass as you'd hope to see. Not quite two (her birthday is next Monday, however) she wins everyone with her curly locks and her friendly smile.

She has displayed her femininity at an early age, for her main pursuits are getting into her mother's bureau drawers from which she drags out a various assortment of cosmetics, and smears them either on the wall, or on her face, depending upon her mood of the moment—and her "operating" time before she is discovered! Dianne is crazy about her five-and-a-half-months-old baby brother, Rinaldo Sal, who is equally adoring of her. The day hasn't really started for either one of them until they are in each other's company.

Dianne's other major interest is in tearing labels off of canned goods. "It's getting so that I never know when I open a can whether it will be string beans, soup, or pineapple," said her mother laughingly.

Dianne is a fortunate little lady in having three grandparents, all of whom she dotes upon. One, Mr. Ed Caminada, lives in Decoto. The other two, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tedeschi, live in Hayward.

After the business meeting the newly formed Niles Cub Pack, sponsored by the P.T.A., will be presented with its charter and the various dens of the pack will present an entertainment and an exhibit of their handiwork.

A GOOD EXCUSE!

If you parents of high school youngsters notice that your young hopeful is arriving home from school on different occasions a little too early, don't become too alarmed and think he is cutting classes.

The reason will be a series of special faculty meetings, being held once every two weeks, which necessitate the dismissal of classes a little earlier than usual. The first begins on March 7.

The purpose of these faculty meetings is to revise the courses of study and curriculum.

Joe Zwissig was welcomed into the organization as a new member, and an address on the Sisters of the Good Shepherd fund appeal was heard from Harold J. Speetzen.

IRVINGTON SCOUT TRIP SET SUNDAY

HIGH CHATTER

By MARGARET COLE

You'd think the "Vodvil" would have been enough, but no! You should see and hear what happens when the Mixed and Girls' Glee Clubs get together, especially when Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg are called away. An uproarious time was had by all one day this week when the gang staged an impromptu, gloriously rowdy, peanut "Vodvil" highlighted by the well-intentioned efforts of a group of boys who formed not a quartet, not a quintet, but a decet. I think! The dictionary is way over on the side of the room. To their own immense satisfaction they harmonized to "Gloria." Then the never-to-be-forgotten All Girl Orchestra obliged with a couple of selections in their own inimitable style. Mel Lewis and Jack Gaunt did things to "St. Louis Blues" with their clarinets, not at all perturbed by the efforts of several other aspiring performers to make themselves heard before the bell rang.

For one reason or another we won't get over the "Vodvil" in a hurry. It was interesting to hear the comments from the audience after the show. A large number seemed to think that Ed Wright has the makings of a good comedian, and the things they said about Grouchie Guerrero would put a strain even on that young man's modesty concerning his versatility in the entertainment field.

Sal, or "Grouchie" as he will be known from now on, undoubtedly has all the resiliency of the best grade of rubber. A lesser man would have been a nervous wreck by the time the show went on. It was a harrowing sight to see him at rehearsals in his capacity of stage manager, tearing out his beautiful curls and screaming when "Sause" in the spot-room persisted in turning his brightest beams on the phosphorescent paint effects in "Danse Macabre." At these times, Mrs. Hartsoy, who must be glad it's all over, had to soothe Sal and take "Sause" aside and quietly explain to him about phosphorescence being self-sufficient or something.

For the benefit of those who have been inquiring as to the identity of the tall, dark-haired girl who danced with professional skill in the "Chinatown" number, we are proud to say that it was our own Alma Mae Rose!

We're glad to report that Elsa

Thomsen sustained nothing more serious than a few minor bruises when, in the spookiest part of "Danse Macabre" she walked off the front of the stage, narrowly missing the drums. Spreading like wildfire were rumors to the effect that she had broken her back and a couple of arms and legs.

I was loads of fun backstage in the "cafe" where the performers awaited their cues. They sat down to play cards, sat up to have pictures taken, played games and generally had a gay time until someone discovered that the Washington-San Jose Tech game was being broadcast. Immediately three radios blared forth the sad news. San Jose 47; Huskies 34. This Friday's game, the last of the season, will be played with Mt. View in our own gym.

The Sophomore ring committee had a stirring session on Wednesday deciding which selection of rings should be put on display. They are beauties, kids, and in three weeks they will be on hand for you to choose and order your favorite design.

Honorable mention to Ronnie Rogers for his demonstration of the art of the "snappy comeback." Mrs. Doan, in one of her digressions from the monotony of Euclid, was trying to impress on her third period geometry class the importance of Math in almost every phase of life. "Why, do you know, people, we depend on Math even to get our food!" "A square meal!" cracked Ronnie.

SET OPERA TRIP

Approximately 30 students at the Irvington Elementary School will journey to San Francisco on March 11 to see the opera, "Barber of Seville."

The pupils will attend a special matinee performance of the opera. The group will be under direction of Gus C. Robertson, district superintendent and school principal.

At the LIBRARY

By ELAINE HOWE

The historical novel now enjoys a wide and increasing popularity. There is something compelling about a period piece all dressed up with dashing blades crossing swords at the drop of a glove, and demure and devastating demolishes inspiring the male to outrageous feats of daring. The visions conjured in our minds are so removed from humdrum reality that the reader escapes—temporarily—into a fresh and dramatic world. It may be escape but I, for one, enjoy the excursion tremendously.

A bouquet of American historical novels are laid variously in Massachusetts, Carolina and New Orleans. In "The Hearth and Eagle" by Anya Seton, Marblehead is the real heroine. This long novel spans several hundred years history in this New England fishing village. The Honeywoods lived through several wars and waxing and waning of the town's fortunes in their ancestral inn, The Hearth and Eagle.

"Castle in the Swamp" by Edison Marshall is set in old Carolina in the 1850's. Wood Ibis, a great plantation, is surrounded by an aura of terror and death. Dan, an orphan lad adopted by the lame musician banished from Wood Ibis, is trained to avenge its evil secret.

"Rampart Street" by E. V. Weber depicts high intrigue in old New Orleans—one of the most colorful of American cities, which furnishes an exotic background for romance and conflict.

"Remembrance Rock" by Carl Sandburg encompasses the American dream. It is an epic of the development of America from Pilgrim days through the Civil War. The book is over-long, but beautifully done by one of our greatest writers—poet, historian, biographer and story-teller.

Diametrically opposed to the preceding quartet is "Wisteria Cottage" by Charles R. Coates. With restraint which does not impede its momentum, this story pursues the emotional imbalance of a schizophrenic leading to murder. An effective, sometimes spine-chilling account of a mind gone astray.

HIGH SCHOOL P.T.A. TO MEET THURSDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Washington High School P.T.A. will be held Thursday evening, March 10, at 8 p.m., in the faculty dining room.

'WHAT IS PRAYER' IS SUNDAY SERMON

"What is Prayer" will be the topic of the morning worship sermon next Sunday at the Centerville Presbyterian Church, according to Howard Steward, pastor.

The services will begin at 11:45 a.m., while Sunday School will get under way at 10 o'clock.

A nursery is provided during the worship service to care for small children, and all are invited to attend.

WHIST A SUCCESS

The whist party held at Mission Grammar School by the student body last Friday evening was a very friendly and successful affair. Fifteen tables were in play during the evening and there were plenty of prizes to make the playing interesting. Margaret Phillips of the Mission won the first prize (a new player, by the way), while the door prize went to one of our neighbors in Irvington. The boys and girls of the school wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who so generously gave prizes and helped out in various ways.

NEW VENTURE

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, their daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Smith, and husband David (as well as their little son David), are going into the restaurant business over on the El Camino Real on the highway to San Francisco. Mrs. Brown has had many years' experience at this work as she was employed at Roethlins in Irvington for a long time. Best of luck, folks. We'll miss you.

LET'S PUT IT OVER!

The Red Cross drive is on! This year Mrs. Janie Lofton has been selected to be the captain of the crew. She is hoping that she can get the newly organized Mothers Club to act as solicitors. Those who wish and who are in the rural district can leave their gifts at

NILES ORCHARDS BEING REMOVED

By LOIS BOTTENBERG

Good progress is being made in the removal of a considerable number of old apricot and cherry orchards in the vicinity of Niles, and the work should be completed during the month of March, according to Fred Duffie, agricultural inspector for this district.

Unfavorable growing conditions coupled with neglect during the past several years has been responsible for the rapid decline and death of many apricot and cherry trees in the older orchards.

Under such circumstances the trees have become badly infested with serious insect pests and unless the infested trees are removed and burned, the insects will migrate to adjoining healthy orchards to continue the cycle of destruction.

In order to protect the healthy and well-cared-for orchards, the Agricultural Commissioner has the power to take legal proceedings to secure the removal of any infested trees. The present work of tree removal is being done voluntarily by the land owners after the seriousness of the situation was presented to them by Gordon B. Laing, agricultural commissioner for Alameda County.

The diseased trees will be removed and burned immediately in order to destroy the insects which are present in the old wood. According to Laing, the storing of wood from old trees for firewood is a questionable practice, but if such should be necessary the wood should have a thorough spraying with diesel or stove oil before storing in order to destroy any insects in the wood.

REBEKAH NEWS

The members of Niles Rebekah Lodge No. 336, I.O.O.F., met in regular session at Odd Fellows Hall, Irvington, Friday evening, Feb. 18, with Florence Dewey, noble grand, presiding. After the business session refreshments were served by a committee headed by Irene Bales, chairman. The lodge members are making plans for the official visit of Anna Bradford, district deputy president of District 53, on Friday evening, April 1. The lodge will also entertain the officers and members of the Past District Deputy Presidents' Association on the same evening.

The next regular meeting of the lodge will be held Friday evening, March 4, according to Florence Dewey, noble grand. Ivy Cull, Katherine Anderson, Justin Adams and Lesda Brown will have charge of the social hour.

A large group of Niles Rebekahs visited Livermore Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, to witness the program rendered by the members of Rose Rebekah Lodge of San Leandro.

CANYON HEIGHTS

TO NEW HOME

Britt Topel and family have moved into their new home on Canyon Heights Drive. Britt is well known in Niles in his capacity as manager of the Frozen Food Locker establishment. The Topels have three daughters, two of whom attend Niles Grammar School.

IN SAN LEANDRO

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Marshall and son, Tommy, spent last Sunday with their long-time friends, the B. L. Baedens of San Leandro.

DINNER GUESTS

The Carl Crosswhites went to Oakland last Sunday to dine at the home of their newly-married son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Powell.

GOING UP!

Congratulations to young Billy Powell! Billy has achieved the well-deserved status of Master Dealer for the Oakland Tribune. The title was conferred upon him on the occasion of the annual dinner given by the Tribune at the Leamington Hotel. At the same time Billy received a handsome seventeen-jeweled Bulova watch. As is customary in these cases, a representative from the faculty of Billy's school, Mr. Clyde Voorhees of Washington High, attended the affair. Billy's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crosswhite, were present and Mrs. Crosswhite was the delighted recipient of a really beautiful pin and a corsage of double carnations.

CHICKENPOX LEADS IN 'DISEASE DERBY'

Chickenpox "ran rampant" again this week in unincorporated areas of Alameda County, with 31 such cases reported by Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer. Malcolm's report added 128 cases have been noted since the first of the year.

In second place are mumps, which claimed 21 victims this week and 83 since January 1.

Measles, meanwhile, beset 11 persons this week. Cases of German measles, scarlet fever, tuberculosis and infectious conjunctivitis were also reported.

KIDDIE MATINEE STARTS SATURDAY

Saturday kiddie matinees—with free popcorn—will be featured by the Center Theatre in Centerville, starting March 12, according to Gordon Morris, theater manager.

This announcement follows a careful survey of schools in the Centerville, Warm Springs, Irvington, Mission San Jose, Newark and Alviso district to determine the most desirable type of pictures and the most convenient hour for the matinee.

The children want matinees, the survey indicates. Some want westerns—and some want thrillers—and some want serials. So the matinees, tailored to young tastes, will start next Saturday, with the box office opening at 1:15 and the show starting at 1:45. All the kids will expect—and get—free popcorn!
